

ABYSSINIAN [ABY] (Standard Source: FIFe 1987)

General

The Abyssinian is a well-balanced cat, with all elements in proportion. It is eager and active, and shows a lively interest in its surroundings.

Head	Wedge-shaped, of medium proportions, wide at the top; the contours are soft and graceful. In profile the head shows a soft curve, with neither a stop nor a straight nose. Nose medium long. Chin firm and well developed; muzzle not sharply pointed. A shallow indentation forming the muzzle is desirable but a pinch is a fault. Neck slender.
Ears:	Relatively large, set well apart and pricked, broad and cupped at the base. Set as though listening. They are slightly rounded at the tips with a thumb mark; tufts at the tips are desirable.
Eyes:	Set wide apart, large, brilliant and expressive; almond in shape and outlined with dark colour. Colour amber, green or yellow; pure, intense colour.
Body	Medium build, firm, lithe, hard and muscular; body of medium length.
Legs and Feet:	Legs fine and long, in proportion to the body; feet small and oval. Gives the impression of standing on tiptoe.
Tail:	Fairly long and tapering, broad at base.
Coat:	Fine, but resilient to the touch, with a lustrous sheen. Medium short; but long enough to accommodate two or three bands of ticking on each hair with dark tips.

For colours and patterns recognised refer to descriptions below.

Remarks: A bump on the nose is undesirable.

Faults: Small or pointed ears. Round eyes. Cobby appearance. Too deep a nose break. Muzzle pinch.

Challenge: Siamese type. Round head. Whiptail.
